STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1893.

NO. 60

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. and Mrs. Galen H. Rout were in the terrible Big Four collision but escaped unhurt.

—Should Mr. Slaughter die, it is the intention to have Bro. Barnes preach his funeral sermon.

—A ten-days' meeting held at Soapers by Eld. J. G. Livingston resulted in 17 additions to the Christian church.

—Eld. J. G. Livingston will preach at Halls Gap church next Sunday night and desires that all the members be present.

—The Kentucky Baptist ministers will meet Oct. 19 at Lebanon. The general association will meet at the same place Oct. 21.

—Rev. John Bell Gibson's 10 days' meeting at Monticello closed with 30 additions, eight the last night. Mr. Gibson says it was a glorious meeting.

—Rev. V. M. Vines, who has been preaching since his graduation last year at Middleburg and Junction City, has been called to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Somerset.

—Services preparatory to communion at the Presbyterian church will begin Wednesday night with preaching each night till Sunday. After that if sufficient interest is manifested the meetings will be continued.

—The Supreme Court of New York has issued an order authorizing the American Home Missionary Society to change its name to the "Congregational Home Missionary Society," to take effect on and after Oct. 1.

—Eld. W. P. Walden closed a very successful meeting on last Wednesday at Bethel, Lincoln county, with a result of 46 additions. Mr. Walden is a young man for whom there is a bright future in the ministerial work.—Lancaster Record.

—An effort will be made by Rev. W. A. Slaymaker at the Wednesday night's prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church to revive the Christian Endeavor Society, which for time flourished and did much good work here. It is hoped that all the old members and many more will enroll their names and become active workers.

—The Cumberland Presbyterians will dedicate their church at Owensboro on Oct. 1. The Messenger says it was erected in 1886, but owing to a heavy mortgage on it it was not dedicated. That has been lifted now. The ceremonies will last a week with a sermon from the preachers of each denomination in the city.

—"The Brotherhood of Christian Unity" was organized at Chicago as the result of the World's Parliament of Religions now in session there. Twenty-five of the leading members of the parliament from all parts of the world and of as many religions are signers of the pledge of membership.

—A large congregation at the Presbyterian church Sunday enjoyed the promised solo of Miss Lucy A. Johns, the lovely and talented music teacher at the College. Her selection was "Ruth and Naomi" and her rendition of it was as near perfection as is ever attained. She has a pure, sweet soprano voice, whose natural beauty has been highly cultivated. The higher notes are reached with the greatest ease and she sings apparently without the slightest effort. It was a rare treat and the unanimous desire is that Miss Johns will make her solos a feature of the Sunday morning's worship. Owing to the illness of Miss Millhouser, Miss Nellie Slaymaker played the accompaniment, doing so very praiseworthy, although only called on that morning to do so.

DANVILLE.

(Advocate.)

—Mrs. Elizabeth Akin died Thursday night, aged 68.

—Sam Hawkins, the boss negro chicken thief, has been caught dead to rights.

—Capt. D. B. Goode has sold his two-story frame house on South 3d St. to Othello Marschal for $2,800.

—A protracted meeting will commence at the Christian church the second Sunday in October. Eld. Mark Collis, an eloquent minister of Lexington, will lead the services.

—John Tewmeyer's barn in which were 78 yearling and two-year-old mules was burned Thursday night. Fifteen of the mules were burned and the total loss is $6,500, with no insurance.

—John T. Yeager has bought of J. H. Otter about 13 acres of land located on the eastern extension of Main street, back of Mr. Otter's place, for $300 per acre. Mr. Yeager will shortly begin the erection of a handsome house fronting on Main street.

Nashville, Tenn., March 6, 1893.—The Stockton Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn., Gentlemen: I have had muscular rheumatism and indigestion for a number of years and had lost hopes of ever finding any relief, as the most skilled physicians had failed in my case, but I am happy to state your Antiseptic has made a complete cure and I do most heartily recommend it to all for rheumatism and indigestion. I will gladly answer all questions in regard to Antiseptic. Yours respectfully, W. E. Bateman, 310 Broad street. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Rev. C. H. Greer will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday night.

—Joe Haeleiden has opened a confectionery and oyster saloon at Arnold's old stand.

—Eld. J. C. Frank continues to improve and was able to take a short drive Sunday.

—Farmers are about through threshing their wheat which was sold at from 50 to 52 cents.

—The L. & N. pay car, which usually passes up promptly on the 15th of each month, was here Friday.

—Mr. H. C. Jennings has rented the residence of Mrs. D. Marks, on Richmond street. Mrs. Wesley West will move to her property on Stanford street as soon as vacated by Mrs. Jennings.

—Dr. Tom Hood and Cabell Denny have returned from a big hunt in the Rocky Mountains. They killed large quantities of bear, buffalo, deer, Indians, &c., and their description of the trip is very interesting.

—Mr. Meir Victor, who has had charge of M. Braun's store, has gone to Mt. Sterling to take charge of Mr. Braun's business at that place. Mr. Victor is a gentleman, a good business man and made many friends while here.

—Sunday morning as Mr. and Mrs. James I. Hamilton were starting to the country to spend the day, the horse became frightened on Lexington street and threw Mrs. Hamilton out. She struck the ground on her back and head and was painfully hurt. At this writing she is resting easy.

—Next Sunday is the last one on which a fellow can get shaved, as the law requiring the shops to close goes into effect on the 3rd. Kentucky commissioners ought to get a copy of this law and one of the new constitution and exhibit them at the World's Fair, along with the makers of same.

—John "Red Cloud," a white man and John Smith, Harriet Hunt, Bill Hunt, Sam Royston, Spencer Royston and Zeke Reid, colored, were before Judge Robinson Saturday charged with selling whiskey on the notorious "battle row." The proof was not sufficient to convict any but Bill Hunt, who was fined $50.

—Dr. J. W. Grant has returned from Somerset. Mr. R. E. Hughes, now of Lawrenceburg, was here Sunday. Mrs. Hughes returned with him Monday morning. Miss Jennie Duncan has returned from the World's Fair. Mr. Will Eason, of Birmingham, is here to see his mother. Miss Bacon, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Ellen G. Owsley on Danville Ave. Mr. W. A. Carson, post master at Crab Orchard, was in town on Sunday. Miss Mamie Currey is visiting relatives in lower Garrard. Mrs. Mag Gill and children and Misses Kate and Lillian Kinnaird are attending the World's Fair. Mr. John M. Duncan has returned from Lawrenceburg.

—Little Willie Scheffel, of Columbus, Ohio, ate a piece of fly paper to see how it tasted. He did not live sufficiently long to tell how he enjoyed it.

—The foundation of the Washington State Building at the World's Fair is made of huge logs ten in number, each of which is 125 feet long, 3 feet 6 inches by 3 feet in breadth. They were cut from trees 340 feet in length.

—Sometime ago Mrs. C. A. Tarlton brought suit against her wealthy young husband for divorce, alleging that he had been unfaithful to her and had communicated to her a loathsome disease. He filed his answer Saturday, denying the charges and claiming that her sickness was caused by efforts to prevent childbirth; that she has been lewd and lascivious in her behavior to men and acted in such a manner as to show her aversion for him. Tarlton is less than 21 and very wealthy. They live in Fayette.

—Nebraska shows a map of Platte county made with wheat, rye, oats and grass seed. Washington has a model farm, 30 feet square, with a farm house no larger than a bird cage, a red barn 3 feet high, and flowing wells which spout into troughs that hold about a pint. Fields of grain are represented by millet heads stuck in the loose earth. A threshing machine 8 inches high is operated by farmers 5 inches tall. There are reapers and mowers in miniature, cows and country roads. The display is a delightful throng around this display.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good if you have a cough, cold, croup, sore throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Cough and Croup is guaranteed to give relief or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store, Large size 50 cents and $1.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, W. Va., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism. His stomach was disordered, his liver was affected, an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Pa., was standing on his leg of a horse, his leg was standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John G. Catwala, O., had five large fever sores on his leg; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by A. R. Penny, drug store.

ADAMS' SULPHUR WELL.

—F. D. Myers is building a big new barn.

—There is almost a continual procession of people these days to Adams' Sulphur Well for water.

—The pike between Stanford and Danville was never in a more excellent condition. As a road president, Uncle Jack Bosley is just simply a daisy.

—There is going to be a wedding in this neighborhood as soon as the young lady decides between two good chances she now has of joining the army of family raisers.

—Sorghum molasses good enough to make a fellow smack his mouth when he thinks about it is being made by a good many in this vicinity, more especially in the Mt. Xenia neighborhood.

—This neighborhood is in an unusually healthy condition, but the trustees and the teacher, Miss Lizzie DePauw, thought it best last week to temporarily suspend the school at Willow Grove.

—Mr. John Moore lost a valuable family horse last week. He had been digging a deep ditch to his ice house and the horse fell into it during the night, where the owner found it dead next morning.

—Stock water has been painfully scarce for some time and many have had to drive their stock for miles to water. The Hanging Fork is proving quite a blessing. Grass is as dry as a bone, but yesterday's rain will bring it out some.

—I saw the composition of a little girl who goes to school at Willow Grove, on the subject of "Town," and among other good things said in the simplicity of unsophisticated childhood, she asserted that "town is only a place where country people dispose of their produce every Saturday."

—Mr. Fountain D. Myers narrowly escaped being burned out of house and home the other night. A box of matches was in a rag box in the box were also a number of loaded shells belonging to his shotgun. About 3 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Myers heard an explosion in the kitchen and waking her husband, they found a blaze running up the kitchen wall above the box containing the matches, a press was ablaze and every second or two a shell was going off, scattering the fire and shot in every direction and making the scene a lively one. Mrs. Myers was thoughtful enough to manage to extinguish the flames, but Fount says he had his hands full trying to dodge the shot sent out by the exploding shells. A fiddle was burned that was nearly a hundred years old and which was valued very highly, but the damage was slight otherwise. He attributes the origin of the fire not to a defective flue, but to a meddlesome rat that was monkeying around to see what the matches in the box were made of.

—The dam at the well known Dawson Mill, built 60 years ago by Mr. Elijah Dawson, father of the late Logan Dawson, is undergoing repairs by the present proprietor, Mr. John H. Bright. All the water was pumped out by machinery at the rate of about 600 gallons a minute below the dam Saturday afternoon and night so that the workmen could get at it to fix the defects, caused by the slipping of a few logs used in its structure. Quite a large crowd was present to see the pumping process, probably 150 ladies and gentlemen witnessing it, and the men helped rake in the fish after the water was out of the way. A good many were caught, the largest only weighing 3 or 4 pounds. Some of the logs that have been under the water there for 60 long years are still perfectly sound. This mill has made a heap of good bread and a heap of people happy in its long existence, and the late Col. A. M. Swope, Prof. M. D. Hughes and the rest of us first learned to ride straddle of a sack while going to Dawson's Mill. S. B. TAYLOR.

HUBBLE.

—Mrs. Frank Rigney is visiting relatives and friends in Pulaski.

—Dr. Herrin presented H. B. Cox with a fine girl a few days ago.

—About all the wheat is threshed in this locality and sold at 50c to 55c.

—Henry Walter sold a lot of 200-lb. hogs to Wm. Moreland at 5c. B. W. Givens sold the Lancaster Mill Co. a lot of old corn at $2.50 delivered.

—The Sam Engleman heirs and friends are indebted to B. W. Givens for the very successful and profitable manner in which he has disposed of all the property. He has gotten at least $1,000 more out of it than some thought could be obtained at first.

—The Engleman sale was not very well attended and property sold low, except milk cows. They brought $25 to $35; horses $30 to $65. The sale amounted to about $500. We regret to give Eph and his good mother up, but wish them success wherever they may go.

—Mr. Robert Barnett gave us a very pleasant call, with his brother, a few days ago. A. J. and Joe Rice are attending school at Lancaster this season. John and Bill Robinson will start in a few days. Dr. Ansel was called to see Fount Ross' wife a few days ago; she is reported better at this writing.

GRAB ORCHARD.

—There was terrible excitement in our town Saturday, caused by the news that D. G. Slaughter, Will Stamper and Rodney Singleton had been killed at a picnic at old Dripping Springs. Dr. Petrus and Jimmie and Charlie Slaughter hastened over and found that Mr. Slaughter was shot twice in the neck and breast. He was taken to the house of Mrs. Adams, his family sent for and at this writing is alive, but the physicians say there is no chance for his life. It seems that Mr. Slaughter was calling the figures of a set for the dancers, when Will Stamper, who had had a previous difficulty with Slaughter, came staggering in and objected in loud terms to the way Slaughter was calling the set. He was ordered out and one of the Larkins boys struck him (Stamper) on the head with his pistol. After the dance Slaughter went to the spring for water, when Stamper and Rodney Singleton confronted him; pistols were drawn and the firing was terrific. Slaughter killed Singleton and held him up till he stabbed him several times; death was instantaneous. Stamper was shot in the mouth but not seriously, while Slaughter received one shot from Singleton and it is thought the second shot he received from Stamper. Crowds of excited people were collected all over town, interviewing every man who came from the scene of the tragedy, while women with white faces and trembling voices were pitying the wife, mother and children, who were so suddenly shocked by the sad news. Mr. Slaughter had hardly finished moving his family into comfortable winter quarters here and was preparing for a large winter trade in his store. But all mortal man can do is to plan; a Higher Power does the executing. We sincerely sympathize with the stricken family, for which Mr. Slaughter so liberally provided, and to whom his place can never be filled. May a merciful Father fulfill with them every promise made in His word and give abundant strength to bear this affliction.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—"I saw in Pulaski county a widower," said J. R. Poindexter, "Mr. H. D. McKinney, aged 65, wed to Miss Mary Freeman, aged 16, and good looking."

—The date of Miss Georgie Barnes' marriage to Mr. E. M. Duncan, of Lexington, has been changed to the 28th, and will occur at the residence of the groom's father.

—Announcement cards received by friends here read: "Thomas Love Lillard, Mary Alice Hubble: Married, Wednesday, September Twentieth, 1893, Chicago, Ill. At home after October 10th, 'Spring Hill,' Boyle county, Ky."

—"T. L. Lafollette, of Parksville, a widower of 51, drove up with Mrs. Susan Jones, a four times widow and 53, Friday and after obtaining license was married at Mr. Robert Land's. The groom has children and the bride three or four sets, so look out for trouble unless all hands are more amiable than the average people."

—At high noon at the Christian church on Wednesday, Oct. 18th, Miss Louise Lee, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Circuit Clerk James P. Bailey, and Mr. Hiram Gregory, a prominent young attorney of Grayson, this State, will be united in marriage. The ceremony will be performed by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Ellis, after which they will leave for a few days' sojourn in Cincinnati and Chicago and then go to Grayson where they will reside.

—Mrs. Rose Zimmerman, of Wooster, O., missed her little three-year-old son and began to hunt for him. After considerable search she found him in a deep ravine playing with a huge black snake. The serpent seemed to have the little one charmed and it was with difficulty that the mother pulled her child away. No damage whatever had been done to the youngster.

—The Roanoke, Va., mob finally got the negro who had assaulted a white woman and after hanging him burned his body. The negro had been taken from jail and secreted, but was found by the men. Only eight men were killed in night attack upon the jail. Twenty-seven others were wounded. Threats were made against Mayor Trout for defending the prisoner, and to avoid trouble he left the city, although suffering from a wound in the foot.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

From the Troy, Kas., Chief: Some years ago we were very much affected by severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to have handy in the house. For sale by W. B. McRoberts, Druggist, Stanford.

When Betty was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

FINDING that demerits wouldn't work, Col. Breckinridge has finally filed an answer to Miss Pollard's petition in which he denies her allegations in toto. He says that in the spring of 1881 he was approached by plaintiff, then a woman of between 20 and 22, who introduced herself as Madeline Breckinridge Pollard, saying that her father had given her the middle name through his great admiration of Gen. John C. Breckinridge; that subsequently he received a letter from her from Wesleyan College, Cincinnati, telling him that she was in distress and wished him to come and give her legal advice, that he couldn't go but finally went on a second appeal from her which said that her troubles were over an engagement to marry James Rodas and that he had assumed conditions worse than a divorce suit; that she gave him a full recital of her relations with Rodas, when he advised her that the safest plan was to marry him; that he did not take advantage of her youth and inexperience by wiles and artifices and protestations of affection or otherwise; that he did not seduce her, did not prevent her going abroad, or entering upon any career that she desired and that he never at any time promised to marry her, for she knew during their entire acquaintance that such a thing was impossible. The answer is signed by Enoch Totten and Phil B. Thompson, "Old Phil," of Harrodsburg. It now remains to be seen if the colonel can prove what he says. The burden of proof will be on Miss Pollard and our prediction is that while her charges may be true, she can produce no witness to substantiate them and the colonel will go acquit with a public sentiment endorsing the Scotch verdict, "guilty but not proven." It is to be hoped, however, if he deserves it, that he will come out with flying colors, and that his sun now in its zenith may not be obscured forever, as it will undoubtedly be if there is left a suspicion of his guilt.

ANOTHER appalling railroad collision is added to the long record that the Chicago roads are making. The travel is so heavy to the Fair that the times have to be run in sections, some trains as many as three or four. On the Wabash at Kingsburg, Ind., Friday night, the first section of a passenger train passed a freight on a side track all right, but the brakeman forgot that there was a second section and opened the switch in time for it to dash at the rate of 55 miles an hour into the standing train. The result was heartrending. Eleven persons were killed outright and scores of others wounded. The brakeman fled and has not been found, though hunted by the citizens. Unless greater precautions are made it will be equal to taking one's life in his hands to go to Chicago. The trial and conviction of a few careless railroad men would be the means of awakening them to a greater responsibility and it is hoped that recommendations of coroner's juries that such men be held responsible for the deaths caused may be adopted and prosecuted.

LOYD REED was fined $100 at Henderson for kissing pretty Mrs. Leonard. The widow objected to the accusation and as it is an assault to lay hands or lips either, be it done never so lightly, on a woman without her consent, he was arrested and tried with the above result. It is worth $100 and more to kiss some women when they are in for it, but the fellow's a fool who thinks to find any enjoyment in kissing when the kissee objects.

PUBLIC office is public trust said Mr. Cleveland on one occasion, but most of his appointees regard it as a private snap. Secretary Carlisle has had his brother "Pole" appointed postmaster at Covington, the salary of which is $2,900 a year, and as "Pole" is only getting $10 a week now, he'll feel "bigger than old Grant," when he steps into nearly 25 times as much in a few days.

CONGRESSMAN GOODNIGHT may not be a statesman, but he possesses an admirable trait. He does not forget those who assisted him in his ambition, after he has attained it. The fact that he has secured the Bowling Green post-office for his friend and supporter, John B. Gaines, editor of the Times, is as much to his credit as the appointee is deserving.

It is said that a Whitley county jury remained out two days before finding a man guilty who had plead that he was. The aversion the average mountain juror feels to condemning a man amounts almost to a mania. West Virginia's coat of arms says Montani semper liberi, and for that reason possibly they object to taking any one's freedom from him.

The annual report of Commissioner Lochren shows that there are 906,012 pensioners on the rolls, an increase of 289,944 during the past year. The amount of money paid these pensioners for this year was $156,740,497 and the commissioner estimates that it will require $162,631,570 for the next fiscal year. He thinks that by 1895, 30 years after the close of the war, the rolls will have reached the highest limit, considering the number of men enlisted, and that they will begin to decrease. It looks like they should but the federal soldiers are as long-lived as they are unhealthy and there is no telling. Meanwhile the country is getting very tired of putting up such a vast amount of money to support so many undeserving men in ease and idleness.

MR. WATTERSON enters an earnest protest against the consideration of the repeal of force bills now when other matters demand attention. As there is no Federal election for a year or more, the great editor is right as he is nine times out of ten. Let us as Carlisle said do one thing at a time and all things in the proper order. Repeal the Sherman law first and then tackle the tariff and force laws with a vengeance that will insure reform in the one and the repeal of the other.

THERE are a number of clerks to smaller committees of the House who get $1,200 a year for doing nothing, some of them not even going to Washington. Congressman Paynter therefore very properly offered a resolution to cut off these useless clerks, and it was adopted, a motion to reconsider being tabled by a vote of 142 to 57. Mr. Paynter deserves commendation. Let all the barnacles be scraped from the old ship of State.

IN order to give themselves more time to talk, the Senators have unanimously agreed to begin the sessions an hour earlier and remain in session till 6 P. M. An effort to adopt the cloture resolution has so far proved abortive, but if ever such a rule is necessary, it is doubly so in this instance. The people want the Sherman silver bill repealed and without further tomfoolery.

—The House adopted a resolution reported by the Committee on Rules, providing for the consideration of the Federal Election Bill on September 26th, the debate to continue until Oct. 10, when a vote should be taken.

—Gen. Gross has been declared the democratic nominee for the Senate in his district by every competent authority. Now let the democrats who nominated him give him a rousing majority and send Gus Richardson to grass.

—The transfer of the Commonwealth's suits against Dick Tate's bondsmen from the law docket to the equity side, in the Fiscal Court, is regarded by the attorney general as a step towards the recovery of the unpaid deficiency from the bondsmen.

—At Lake Petoskey Abram Wilsey shot and killed his wife with whom he had quarreled. He had fired four shots and as he was preparing to send another ball into the prostrate form, a boarder in the house shot Wilsey in the heart killing him instantly.

—Leo Percy, of London, was in love with Daisy Montague, a well known star of the dance halls. The other night he followed her and Samuel Garcia, his rival, from the theatre where she was engaged and fatally shot both. He then committed suicide.

—Mobs are becoming so frequent in the South that it is rather refreshing to read how that one was decimated at Roanoke, Va. There was a like reception accorded mobs in Birmingham and Cincinnati a few years ago. A little more grape should be given them all over the country.—Louisville Times.

—Seven years ago a youth named Cochran, living near Paducah, was bitten by a mad dog. The wound soon healed and his sufferings amounted to little or nothing. A few days ago, however, hydrophobia seized him and now he is raving with convulsions.

—The Valkyrie, the British yacht that is to contest for the American cup, arrived at New York after a rough voyage and "a dead beat to windward" of nearly 1,500 miles across the Atlantic. Notwithstanding the bad weather, the captain says she didn't ship enough water "to wet a biscuit."

—Mitchell and Corbett have agreed to fight and the papers have been signed, sealed and delivered. It now looks as if there is nothing to keep them from coming together and a great fight may be expected. It will take place at the Coney Island Club and $40,000 to the winner.

—One robber and the engineer were probably fatally wounded in the attack on the Illinois Central train. Two other trainmen were wounded. Four men were arrested at Centralia, and the wounded robber confessed that three of them were implicated with him in the attack.

—A storm of wind and rain struck the World's Fair Thursday night and knocked in the roof of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts' Building. Valuable exhibits were damaged and 100,000 people who had remained to see the illumination were drenched. The storm was a very sudden one.

—Train wreckers removed a rail from the track of the Queen & Crescent road, nine miles north of Birmingham, Ala., and the limited express for Cincinnati was wrecked. Several of the trainmen were severely hurt, but as the vestibuled cars did not turn over the 200 passengers aboard escaped injury.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Silas Sandidge sold to an Eastern party a 3-year-old gelding for $150.

—John Bright sold to a Boyle county party a three-year-old bay gelding for $200.

—I have a few more Southdown bucks for sale and will also sell a few ewes. J. E. Bruce.

—Dudder Bros. sold to Woodcock, of Boyle, a lot of extra good heifers and steers at 3c.

—Prewitt & Woods bought in the East End a lot of feeders at 2½c and some butcher stuff at 2½c.

—Farmers who can afford to should hold on to their wheat. There are enough who can not hold it to supply the market at present prices.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

—The Covington Post says that E. C.

The Great Wild West Show

Which now attracting so much attention in the White City or the Windy City, whichever choose to call it, is in that respect somewhat like our establishment. With goods piling up in our house and prices marked so low, we are in Stanford the

CENTRE OF ATTRACTION

And we intend now to "astonish the natives" with prices that are absolutely too low to be referred to as "rock bottom." To give you an idea of the enormity of our stock we mention the fact that we have over 2,000 Shirts in our House and everything else in proportion.

The Biggest Circus

Can't touch us in drawing a crowd and our store is the busiest looking establishment in Stanford, "the city between two hills." We can sell goods at prices that will

Make You Smile Out Loud

For instance, good Shirts from 20c to $3; our line of Underwear is complete and we can sell you a suit anywhere from 50c to $7. Examine our line of Comforts and Blankets; we have them to suit all pocket books. In fact, our stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes surpasses all others in immensity and the popular verdict is that it is perfectly beautiful. Come to see us at Hopper is undoubtedly the king of racing association managers.

—Sales of 200 bushels of blue grass seed at 65 cents and 35 acres of corn in the field at $2 are reported in the Richmond Register.

—Strayed or Stolen.—A red Berkshire sow, pigs weaned; weight about 175 pounds. A reward will be paid for her return. J. G. Carpenter.

—Wheat is going up. No. 2 winter red sold quickly in Cincinnati Saturday at 6½c. The top or the cattle market is 4½c and of the hog 6½ in the same city.

—J. W. Poor & Co. have shipped two cars of wheat from Crab Orchard to Newport News, Virginia, for export, for which they paid 52 cents. W. E. Perkins has shipped three cars to the Broadhead Roller Mills from same point, for which he paid 50 cents.

—Isaac Terhune and Jesse Litsey, who have been feeding wheat to their hogs and carefully watching the experiment, claim that at 5c per pound wheat fed to hogs will realize $1 per bushel. Campbell & Gentry bought 60 cattle averaging 1,200 lbs., at 3c and Alexander bought 90 hogs at 5c.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

—Notwithstanding the rain a fair crowd attended court at Lancaster yesterday. Only a few cattle were on the market; no sales were reported. Several horses sold at $40 to $85. M. S. Baughman bought 10 mare mule colts at $55 to $75. E. P. Woods bought two of same at $70 and $75. Gover, of Pulaski, bought several horse mule colts at $30 to $35.

—A. M. Pence arrived from Springfield, Ill., with his horse, Pence, that had made the season there, serving 50 mares at $50, cash. This game racer and splendid breeder has made a big reputation for himself in Illinois and Mr. Pence has frequently refused $5,000 for him. He asks $10,000 though and is not anxious to dispose of him at that money.

—A small crowd attended the sale of the late Samuel Engleman's effects Friday and bidding was slow and dull. The household and kitchen furniture sold very low while the farming implements went almost for a song. Five horses and mares brought from $25 to $65; milk cows from $15 to $26. A half interest in a jennet and jennet colt brought $156.

—Thomas Metcalf, of Wilmore, sold this week to R. A. Dodd, his crop of 2,000 bushels of wheat at 56 cents. Robt. M. Hunter has just completed the shipment of 1,500 bushels of Jessamine cloverseed bought for Cincinnati parties, engaged at $5 per bushel. Since the decline in seed he has purchased about 500 bushels more at $4.50. The same seed will find its way back to the county next spring at $7.50.—Journal.

THE Q. & C. and L. S. announce a one fare rate to Versailles 27-28 on account of the re-union of the Orphan Brigade, with special train from Lexington at 9 A. M. on the 27th. The same roads will sell tickets to Cincinnati 25-27 at 14 fares for the round trip, on account of the Young Men's Institute Meeting of Grand Council. See agents or address W. E. Rinearson, G. P. Silas Sandridge, who has done fully as well as he expected to in the horse training business, has decided to move to Danville and open a training stable. He thinks that is a better market for his class of horses and will move about the 1st.

Among the new appointments of storekeepers and gaugers in this district are Stephen Burch and L. L. Dawson, of this county, E. Burkin, Jr., J. R. Dodds, T. P. Dudley, Z. T. Elkins, J. P. Gray, H. McGowan, R. G. McKee, J. B. Nolan, B. Slavin and J. R. Skidmore.

The minstrel firm of Beach & Bowers, which gave a splendid show here several years ago, is now engaged by Ringling Bros. to do the concert part. They were recognized by several of our people at the show at Danville Saturday. This seems to us as rather a come down.

The L. & N. has already put on in conformity to the law for separate coaches for colored people which goes into effect Oct. 3, cars with partitions in them. On one side of the door is "This apartment for white passengers," and on the other "This apartment for colored passengers."

Mr. P. H. Howell, who is here from Cumberland Gap, tells us that he has sold his woolen mills here to Mr. Trammell, of Tennessee, for $1,500, with a sufficient first payment to guarantee the balance of the purchase money. It is Mr. Trammell's intention to improve the plant and to run it to its full capacity.

Dr. J. A. Williams again breathes the air of his McKinney home. His wife and her sister, Miss Fannie Givens, came to town Saturday and put up the $100 bond for him to keep the peace toward the family and all persons and he shook the scent of the jail from his clothes and departed, let us hope, never to return to its confines again.

The Columbia, Mo., Herald says of Heywood's Celebrities, which appear at Walton's Opera House, Saturday, Oct. 7th: "Heywood's Celebrities gave a programme of musical and dramatic features, a combination of talent in which every performer was a star. It is a most excellent company and its performance deserves much compliment. The soprano was particularly good."

A Circuitous Route.—The other day a Chinaman asked the agent of the Big Four at Cairo, Ill., for a ticket to Evansville, Ind., a distance of about 100 miles. Carelessly or unintentionally he gave him a coupon ticket which read via Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Livingston and Guthrie, Ky. He got on the wrong train at Livingston and Conductor Delph took him to Corbin and shipped him back by the next train.

The will of Charles H. McDowell was sustained by a Boyle county jury. The old gentleman left all of his property to his brothers Nicholas and Joseph McDowell, and the children of a half sister who had married Dr. J. M. Meyer brought suit because they were not recognized in the will. In his testimony the doctor admitted having denounced the deceased as a scoundrel and telling him that hell was far too good for him. The jury was of the opinion that it would have done just as Mr. McDowell did and decided that the will should stand.

ONE KILLED.
Two Mortally Wounded, Including Dan G. Slaughter.
Our Crab Orchard letter gives briefly the particulars of a terrific battle at Dripping Springs, Saturday, the result of which was the killing of Rodney Singleton and mortal wounding of Col. D. G. Slaughter and Bill Stamper. The trouble was caused by Stamper, who is said to be a very bad youth. He was shot five or six times and Singleton and his partner about as many. After Slaughter had fired as he thought all of his balls, he closed in on Singleton and used his dirk with much effect. He finally fell, paralyzed from the effects of one of the balls lodging near his spine, and finding that there was still another load in his pistol, he with great difficulty raised on one arm and fired again at Singleton, the ball entering his femoral artery, causing him to bleed to death in a few moments. Dr. J. G. Carpenter was dispatched for and went at once to the scene. He found that one ball had entered Mr. Slaughter's neck, passing through, and the other had passed through the breast and lodged near or against the spine, producing paralysis. The removal of the ball was impossible, so he simply dressed the wounds, telling the patient in answer to his inquiries that he might live 48 hours, or five days, but that his chances to recover were one in a dozen and advised him to settle up earthly affairs he might wish to attend to at once. Mr. Slaughter heard these words without the slightest sign of emotion and made the doctor go into detail as to how death would likely come. He then said "Tell Walton," meaning the editor of this paper, "that I was not to blame, but only acted in self defense." Dr. Carpenter says he never witnessed so little fear in the very jaws of death as the wounded man showed nor heard of greater fortitude than he displayed in the bloody encounter. Mr. Slaughter is the well known and clever proprietor of Green Briar Springs and a leading merchant of Crab Orchard. He has a large family, which he supported well and who will feel his loss should his wounds prove fatal.

A dispatch from Mrs. Alice Newland, at Crab Orchard, as we go to press, says: Mr. Slaughter was sinking rapidly at 3 o'clock, with no hope that he would survive the night.
Fire.—Just as the town clock struck 1 o'clock Sunday morning flames were seen issuing from Anderson T. Nunneley's feed stable back of Mr. P. P. Nunneley's residence and the cry was at once raised. It was some moments before the alarm was sounded but many of the firemen had heard the cry and were hastening to the scene with the reels, hose and ladders and in an almost incredible space of time they had the streams playing upon the fire. It was soon seen that there were no hopes to save the building and attention was turned to the houses adjacent. The colored Baptist church caught fire in several places but by almost superhuman efforts it was saved as were also the buildings on I. M. Bruce's lot which also caught. After the fire was discovered it was impossible to get into the stable on account of the heat and smoke. Several of the horses got out, all except one badly burned, but six head perished besides four hogs.
As usual Mack Bruce loses heavily. A splendid pair of mules for which he had refused $350, a $200 horse, 4 hogs, phaeton, buckboard and feed run his loss up to $700, with $500 insurance. It is the third fire he has suffered, the last being the one that destroyed the larger portion of the Opera House block, in the summer of 1892, when he lost besides buggies, harness, &c., 11 horses.
Mr. Sam M. Owens kept his horses in the stable and lost two fine ones, one a favorite of his wife and his burning nearly prostrated her. A phaeton, buckboard and two sets of harness were also burned making Mr. Owens' loss fully $650, with no insurance.
Mr. Nunneley lost a mule, back, buggy, harness and feed, about $500. The horse that got out was considerably singed. J. T. Harris had his harness repair shop in the building and he loses about $100's worth of tools. Dr. W. B. O'Bannon lost buggy and harness. His horse got out severely burned after his halter had been cut in two by the flames. The colored church was drenched, its windows broken and some of the rafters slightly burned. The wonder is that it was saved at all.
The stable was worth about $700 and was insured in the Connecticut Fire Co. for $500. The origin of the fire is variously attributed. Some think it was the work of incendiaries, others that it caught from the cigar stumps of crap shooters, and still others that it started from sparks from a locomotive. Wills Guest was sleeping in the building and saved himself by jumping through a window, taking the sash with him.

While all the fire company, except perhaps the hook and ladder squad, deserve commendation, Mr. Albert Severance is entitled to special mention as the first to get to the engine house. The first arrivals at the fire attempted to cut into the building, but were stopped before they succeeded by the intense heat.

Mack Ferrell's attorneys have decided to make no further legal effort to set aside the verdict of life imprisonment for the murder of Sam Engleman and he will be taken to Frankfort next week to spend his long term.

FROST.—A dispatch from the Signal Service last evening says "Fair Tuesday, colder. Severe frosts Wednesday night." Those having tobacco or other easily killed plants in danger should observe this warning and govern themselves accordingly.
The car repairers and coal heavers at Rowland stopped work yesterday because 13 cars were sent there from Louisville for repairs. The shopmen in Louisville are still out and we are told that the cars and engines are getting in very bad shape. The effort of the company to replace the strikers has not so far proved successful. The strike is against a reduction of 10 per cent. in wages.

The L. & N. and Monon Routes will run a cheap excursion from Middlesboro to the World's Fair next Thursday, 25th, to be personally conducted by Mr. W. W. Penn. It will leave at 5 A.
